WASHINGTON PLAYHOUSE
ON SECURE FOUNDATION

Reorganization Effected by Incorporation of the Founders' Company and Officers Chosen.

Washington residents interested in the Playhouse have effected a reorganization which will give the venture more substantial foundation and thereby increase its sphere of usefulness.

By an incorporation secured in Virginia, an association to be known as the Founders' Company will take over the Playhouse property on N. street and will own stock in place of the outstanding second mortgage bonds. Each member of the Founders' Company is to own a share of stock of the par value of $20, and the purpose is to raise the capital necessary to insure the continuance of the Playhouse as now conducted.

The officers of the Founders' Company are as follows: Clarence Moore, president; John Blair, vice president; and Clarence Moore, John Blair, Capt. Fortson, J. William Henry, H. L. Jordan, and John T. Williams, executive committee and board of governors.

It is the intention of the new company to lease the property to the Playhouse organization, which remains unchanged, with Mr. Preston Gilson as president. Under the new arrangement, which insures ample financial support, it is the intention to develop the Playhouse as a place where the national talent, both in authorship and acting, can find opportunity for development. It is certain to add largely to the cosmopolitan attraction of the National Capital.

FINES TO BE REMITTED.

Mrs. Richard Silverman yesterday recommended to the Commissioners that the $5 fine imposed upon A. B. Cole and C. E. Wardell, violators of the Fifth Street, be remitted.

The men were fined for having exceeded their authority in cleaning up their station house previous to the annual police inspection.

In view of the fact that the men subsequently applied the fine in paying for expenses, the fines were remitted.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

F. S. Dept. Agriculture, Weather Bureau.

Washington, Friday, March 31, 1911. The sun over the continent part of the country during the past few days is now over the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The snow drifts have been melted near the Atlantic coast from Maryland southward, also over the St. Lawrence Valley and scattered snow in the lower lake. Some snow has fallen over the first lake, the water has been generally fair.

"SAFE AND SANE" FOURTH PLANS ARE UNDER WAY

Joint Committee, Headed by Commissioner Rudolph, Will Meet To-day and Start Campaign for Funds.

Definite plans for an active campaign for contributions, the mapping out of the programme for the day, and the appointment of chairmen of the various committees will result from today's meeting of the joint Chamber of Commerce and Board of Trade committee on "safe and sane" celebration of the Fourth of July. The meeting is called for 11 o'clock, and will be held in the office of Commissioner Rudolph, who will serve as chairman.

Realizing that last year's public celebration programme did not accomplish the work intended for it because of necessary curtailment toward the end of the day, the committee this year will make strenuous efforts to roll up a subscription fund of not less than $5,000. Last year the committee was forced to keep expenditures within $2,000.

This year's programme will be mapped out along much the same lines as were followed last Fourth. The committee will recommend that a number of additional historical sites and buildings be marked and unveiled on that day. There will be fireworks on the White House Ellipse at night, and the day will be taken up with aquatic and other athletic sports and games.

The committee comprises Commissioner Rudolph, chairman; Charles J. Bell, Thomas C. Noyes, James F. Oyster, George W. White, Gen. George H. Harries, William E. Shannon, Julius Garfinkel, and J. Fred Kelly. To-day's meeting chairmen will be appointed for subcommittees on fireworks, District Building celebration, concerts, aquatic sports, athletic games, and decorations.

CARPENTERS WIN IN LONG STRUGGLE

Get an Increase of Pay Beginning To-day.

BUILDERS ADOPT NEW SCALE

Settlement Marks Termination of Fight of Months in Effort on Part of Carpenters to Better Conditions. Half Holiday Granted on Saturday. Amalgamated Body Celebrates.

Beginning today, all carpenters employed by the Builders' League and the Master Builders' Association will receive 16 cents an hour and a half holiday on Saturdays. This will mean a forty-four-and-a-half-hour week and a weekly wage of $12.92. W. P. Gilmore, business agent of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters, made this announcement last night.

"Until now the carpenters have been earning a weekly wage of $12.50," said Mr. Gilmore. "The increase amounts to 48 cents a day. Saturday excepted. The adoption of the new scale is a great victory for the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters, for it has been through their efforts that the increase has been won."

The new scale has been adopted by the Builders' League and the Master Builders' Association, and will go into effect to-morrow morning without a hitch.

This new scale marks the termination of a long-continued effort on the part of the Amalgamated Association of Carpenters to better their condition as regards wages and hours.

In commenting on this Mr. Gilmore said, "On April 2, 1910, the Amalgamated Association asked the Builders' League for an increase in wages of 80 cents an hour and a half holiday on Saturdays. The Builders' League granted the half holiday, and it went into effect the first Saturday in June."

Result of Compromise.

"This action was the result of a compromise," the carpenters having agreed to accept 16 cents an hour, with the half holiday on Saturday. The scale will take effect February 15, 1911, from January 1, at which time the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters opened negotiations with the master builders and other contractors who were members of neither the Builders' League nor the Master Builders' Association. Following this action, the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters received a letter from the master builders, saying they would grant 16 cents an hour, provided it did not go into effect until April 1, 1911. Upon receipt of the letter, the carpenters' society voluntarily postponed the date of adoption of the new scale until April 1. The Amalgamated Association was then notified by the Master Builders' Association that they had adopted the new scale in conjunction with the Builders' League.

The executive committee of the Amalgamated Society of Carpenters met last evening in the room of the new scale in the Hatching Building to celebrate the adoption of the new scale.

ENDS LIFE BY GAS.

William L. Wellborn, a Feed Dealer, Found Dead in Office.

William L. Wellborn, a feed dealer, was found dead in his office, 45 O street northwest, yesterday morning, as the result of inhaling illuminating gas with suicidal intent, according to the police.

A small bander was disconnected, and gas filled the room. Scott Sanford, of the second precinct, was passing the store about 7 o'clock when he detected the odor. He traced it to the office of Mr. Wellborn, and looking through the window saw the body lying on the floor. The door was forced open with an ax, and the body of Wellborn was carried to the pavement. A physician who was summoned said Wellborn had been dead for hours. His wife, Mrs. Julia W. Wellborn, and their three children were notified at the home, 145 Monroe street northwest.

Wellborn was a native of Atlanta, Ga., and was forty-five years old. It is believed that ill health prompted the act.

NO LIQUOR FOR INDIANS.

District Saloonkeepers Warned of Federal Statute.

Unless Indians visiting Washington can produce evidence to show they are accredited citizens of the United States, they will be unable to buy liquor in the District.

In compliance with a request of P. H. Abbott, Assistant Commissioner of Indian Affairs, the District excise board will send letters to all saloonkeepers in Washington, calling their attention to a United States statute forbidding the sale of liquor to a certain class of Indians, and requesting that none be sold to any Indians.

Judges Will Exchange Courts.

Beginning Monday, the new term of the police courts, Judges Mullovey and Pugh will exchange seats for a year, the former going to the District branch and the latter to the United States branch. At the close of the session yesterday morning, Judge Mullovey discharged the jury. A new panel will report Monday.

Comes Here as Pastor.

Rev. Dr. A. S. Mobray, pastor of the Ashbury M. E. Church, at Smyrna, Del., has received a call to the pastorate of the North Capitol M. E. Church in Washington, and is expected to take charge shortly. His place at Smyrna will be taken by Rev. Dr. Parry, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church of Piedmont, Md.

RAILWAY MAIL SERVICE SHAKE-UP

tem the heavy good will of employees is absolutely necessary."

It was seven weeks ago that an overhauling of the executive system of the Railway Mail Service was imminent. At that time, however, the resignation of Alexander Grant, second Assistant Postmaster General, was flying around Washington, but they were denied by Mr. Hiltchcock, who said he had not asked or received them.

The order issued by the Postmaster General, of which he knew nothing, is the result of the entire investigation by him, it is said on good authority. In working out of his special system, Mr. Hiltchcock said, the railway clerks, by a reasonable readjustment of hours, had not been demoted, and the service had in no respect been curtailed. On the contrary, the department's efforts had been to obtain, through Congress, improved physical and financial conditions, while striving to keep the service abreast with the developments of the country.

Since his installation into office, the Postmaster General has consistently maintained he was going to see that the people of the country had the best mail service possible at the least cost, and to this end his entire energies have been directed. "Time and again there have been registered with him 'kicks' by various organizations and associations, complaining of the Railway Mail Service and charging it with gross inefficiency and incompetence. This evil the Postmaster General decided to fight tooth and nail, and the promotions and demotions are the result of his work."

An Efficient Officer.

Theodore Inagaki, who becomes general superintendent of the Railway Mail Service at $10,000 per annum, is regarded by his superiors as one of the best trained and most efficient officers in the entire department. He is thoroughly familiar with the railway mail system, having begun his postal work in that branch and then moved to several grades, after which he served as superintendent of mail in the Louisville post-office. Later he became a post-office inspector in the field, then chief clerk to the chief post-office inspector for a year. Last year he was appointed superintendent of the division of rural mails, one of the most important officers connected with the service.

Chas. M. Reed, who goes from Cleveland to take charge of the Cincinnati division, stands high in the regard of the Postmaster General as an efficient executive. He was selected for the new post by reason of the effective work he has done in Cleveland.

Inspector John C. Lyons was trained in the Railway Mail Service, and is exceptionally familiar with that branch. After his appointment as an inspector, he was chosen as a member of the commission to investigate the railway mail system, and is an expert on the subject.

Mr. Grant has been general superintendent of the Railway Mail Service since 1905, having been appointed to that position from assistant general superintendent, which position he reached in 1902. He entered the Railway Mail Service as a clerk in the office of the general superintendent of the Railway Mail Service, and in 1905 was promoted to chief clerk.

Head of the Changes.

When word last night Mr. Grant said he had heard the changes had been ordered by the Postmaster General, he could not tell the reason why, as he had not been officially notified. He declined to give out a statement until he had been thoroughly informed by Postmaster General Hiltchcock.

Charles M. Vickery, superintendent of the Washington division, was surrounded when told of the order. He said it was the first he had heard of the change. He has been in charge of the Washington division for the last twenty years, and has been in the Railway Mail Service for thirty years.

The remainder of the men affected have been in the service for years, and have reached their present positions through successive promotions for services of merit and years.

SCRIBES HOLD ELECTION.

New Committee Will Govern Capitol Press Galleries.

Newspaper correspondents of Washington held an election yesterday and chose five of their number to represent them as the standing committee to govern the House and Senate press galleries, in conjunction with the Speaker of the House and the chairman of the Committee on Rules of the Senate.

The following committee was chosen to serve throughout the Sixty-second Congress: John T. Suter, Chicago Record-Herald; John E. Monk, New York Sun; Charles S. Dyer, St. Louis Post-Dispatch; Robert M. Gates, Memphis Commercial-Appeal; and Robert Simpson, of the Pittsburgh Gazette-Times.

The election was preceded by a short business session, at which resolutions governing the admission of visiting press correspondents to the galleries.

A. E. Heiss, of the Chicago News-Democrat, and Arthur C. Johnson, of the Washington Herald, formed the committee chosen to conduct the election.

SINGLE TAXER AND SOCIALIST NAMED

After enduring grinding poverty for many years in Milwaukee, Berber, through his knowledge of German, became an instructor in the public school. He had acquired the name of socialism in his early days, and continued to disseminate its ideas as he made his way in Milwaukee, both as a metal polisher and an educator. He married Miss Meta Schlichting. She became a convert and an ardent advocate of his ideas.

Some of Mr. Berber's Ideas.

Representative Berber has some ideas that will give pause to most Washingtonians. He regards the Constitution as a capitalistic document, and if he had his way he would abrogate it and adopt a constitution that would advance communism and other sweeping changes. Apparently, he has been taken with the idea of placing the stamp of his party, if possible, on the system of government of the District of Columbia, and hopes at least to do some missionary work for his cause.

Henry George, Jr., has followed a literary career and has been engaged in writing the record of a system of taxation which not a few of his fellow-democrats have taken up. He was born in California in 1862 and educated in the public schools there. He engaged in newspaper work with his father and accompanied him to New York in 1881. He also went on a lecturing tour with him through Great Britain, where many ideas concerning the single tax have since been in evidence.

Like Mr. Berber, Mr. George was attracted to the possibility of the District Committee and asked for the assignment.

Other Members.

There are to be ten newly elected Democrats on the Committee on the District of Columbia, among them being Edwin P. Sweet of Michigan, who succeeded Representative Dickman. Of the former Democratic members of the committee, but three are to remain. These are Representative Ben Johnson of Kentucky, who is to be chairman, Representative Alden of South Carolina, and Representative Rothwell of Pennsylvania.

SULZER IS APPEARED.

Gets Chairmanship of the Foreign Affairs Committee.

Representative William Sulzer, of New York, was turned down for the chairmanship of the committee on Military Affairs, to which he was entitled by reason of seniority of service, but he made such a rout that the majority of the Ways and Means committee, which is passing around committee assignments, have decided to appease him. He will be named as the chairman of the important Committee on Foreign Affairs.

In order to provide for Mr. Sulzer the Ways and Means Committee had to do some rapid switching. Representative Flood of Virginia, who was slated for the head of the Foreign Affairs Committee, was put at the head of the Committee on Territories, and several other changes in chairmanships were made to carry out the bargain.

The New York Congressman, who has been fighting for years to have this government influence Russia to grant passports to Jews, is pleased with his assignment. As chairman of the Foreign Affairs Committee Mr. Sulzer will press this question.

An Appeal

To the Charitable Public to Help Remove the Incumbrance of $30,000 on the CENTRAL UNION MISSION

"A Home for the Man Who Has No Home."

This institution has helped thousands to help themselves. Incorporated 25 years, it has a large six-story building, with a capacity for sheltering 400 men. An average of 200 men find shelter here each night. Religious services (interdenominational) every night. Clean dormitories. Sanitary kitchen and dining room. Wood yard. Paper plant. Furniture repair shop. Gospel wagon of pioneer fame. Largest Scriptural electric witness in the world. Employment bureau. Plant valued at $100,000. A trust of $30,000 is now to be lifted.

HELP LIFT IT.

We believe there are 30,000 citizens who will give one dollar or more each toward the liquidation of this incumbrance. Make checks payable to Central Union Mission, 622 Louisiana avenue.

Contributions, large or small, are earnestly solicited from Christian and philanthropic citizens. Payment to be made at convenience within two years, either at once, quarterly, semi-annually, or annually, and will be acknowledged in these columns.
